The American Forces Network offers two distinct programming services for the authorized audience worldwide¹. The two services are Direct to Home (DTH), also known as SATNET, and the Direct to Sailor or DTS service.

Direct to Home

The DTH service offers eight television channels and multiple audio services covering popular musical genera's, news, talk and sports. DTH television programming includes:

AFN prime Atlantic	AFN prime Pacific	AFN sports	AFN sports 2
AFN news	AFN spectrum	AFN movie	AFN family

All AFN television channels are time shifted to either Central European Time (CET) or Japan Standard Time (JST). The AFN|prime channels are time shifted by theater so AFN|prime Atlantic is set to CET while AFN|prime Pacific is set to JST.

Direct to Sailor

The DTS service offers four television channels and three audio services. DTS television programming includes:

AFN prime	AFN news	AFN sports	AFN sports 2
-----------	----------	------------	--------------

The AFN|prime television programming on DTS is a hybrid of the best shows on AFN|prime, and AFN|spectrum and is designed specifically to serve underway naval forces and those in other areas outside of a Ku-band satellite footprint.

American Forces Network programming is provided specifically to the authorized overseas audience as stipulated in DoD Instruction 5120.20, DoD Manual 5120.20, and contractual obligations between the DoD and program owners, suppliers and distributors. AFN programming is intended solely for the personal use of the authorized audience and any commercial use of programming off of military installations is prohibited. Signal piracy or unauthorized use of AFN programming places all of our programming in jeopardy and individuals found to be violating AFN Terms of Use found at www.myafn.net/terms may be permanently banned from activating an AFN-capable signal decoder.

¹ If you receive AFN programming over a base cable system or via a military Exchange partner, you should contact that content provider to get the channel lineup for their distribution system.
